Introduction

Mobility Exchange student, including Erasmus, who come to Cambridge as participants in exchanges initiated by MMLL will be expected to attend courses selected from those offered in MMLL and Linguistics, including some taught in other faculties but available to MMLL students, or to pursue research on topics agreed with their home universities under the guidance of members of the MMLL Faculty.

For information on English Faculty papers please consult the “English Literature Framework” on the Mobility Exchange webpages. Such courses are available to students who have already studied English literature for one year as an undergraduate and who wish to study three courses in English literature during their Mobility Exchange year in Cambridge. If students want to study English papers they must do so at undergraduate level and must come for the full academic year. NB: Students wishing to take ANY English courses cannot apply to the MMLL Mobility Exchange programme, but must apply to the English faculty directly. It is not possible to take papers from both the MMLL and English frameworks.

No Mobility Exchange student may transfer to a regular Cambridge course during their period of study in Cambridge and thus become eligible for a Cambridge degree.

1. Language Skills

It is essential that students have English language skills that are good enough to undertake an intensive and challenging academic course that is taught and examined in English. All students who are non-native speakers of English are required to sit an online English assessment as part of their application. This will be arranged by the International Student Office.

Students are exempt from taking the assessment if they already have one of the following qualifications, which must have been obtained in the last two years:

- IELTS: a minimum overall grade of 7.5, with 7.0 in each element
- Cambridge Certificate in Advanced English: at grade A
- Cambridge Certificate of Proficiency in English: at grade A or B
- TOEFL iBT Certificate with a minimum overall score of 110, with at least 25 in each element

Students should note that they must have a good relevant linguistic competence in order to take an MMLL course in an additional language (i.e. knowledge of Russian for Slavonic papers etc.). Evidence of this should be provided at the point of application. Some papers are not suitable for native speakers of that language and these are indicated in the course catalogue.

2. Learning Agreements

When they first apply to Cambridge, Mobility Exchange students will be asked to choose specific courses to study. Learning Agreements will be agreed in accordance with the guidelines set out in this document shortly after a student’s application is received. They may only be revised subsequently with the approval of the MMLL Mobility Exchange Director.

In all cases, courses are offered subject to availability. Priority has to be given to those students registered in Cambridge for the degree of BA. If a course is withdrawn or oversubscribed, Mobility Exchange students may be asked at the start of the academic year in October to choose an alternative and their Learning Agreements will be amended accordingly.

3. Courses (subject to availability)

a) Undergraduates

Undergraduates will need to choose THREE courses (and no more or fewer than three) from the list given on pages 4 -15 of this document. The list comprises courses at Foundation (first-year - Part 1A), Intermediate (second-year - Part 1B) and Advanced (final-year Part II) levels. Detailed course descriptions may be found on the Faculty's website at <https://www.mml.cam.ac.uk/undergraduates/current-undergraduates>.

(i) Considerations for students choosing linguistics courses:

Please note that as all courses offered in Linguistics are at an advanced level, careful consideration should be given by each prospective student to their level of preparation. Please also note that there are limits on numbers of Mobility Exchange students who will be allowed to follow Linguistics courses.

b) Masters-level Students

Masters-level students will also normally be registered as undergraduates in Cambridge. They will be expected to choose three courses from the numerous final-year (Part II) courses which are appropriate for Masters-level students.

They may be able to follow one of the Cambridge MPhil courses listed at the end of this document, although access to the MPhil modules is severely limited. Please note that Mobility Exchange students who are permitted to follow an MPhil course are not eligible for the award of a Cambridge M.Phil degree.

Students who are not successful in their application for participation in MPhil course modules will choose Part II undergraduate courses instead. This will be arranged when their application is initially sent to the Faculty.

Masters-level students may, if they wish, choose to focus in part or exclusively on a longer dissertation that will be examined by their home university. A dissertation of around 20,000 words, together with attendance at relevant seminars and lectures in the Faculty, will be deemed to constitute a full year's work in Cambridge. Such students should state at the time of their application if they have a particular Cambridge advisor ("supervisor") in mind. The supervisor must be a member of the MML Faculty.

c) Doctoral students

Mobility Exchange students at doctoral level will be admitted in the usual way and registered as graduate students. Such students should state at the time of their application if they have a particular Cambridge advisor ("supervisor") in mind. The supervisor must be a member of the MML Faculty.

4. ‘Supervisions’

Undergraduate ‘Supervision’ in Cambridge (small-group teaching supplementing faculty lectures and language classes) is arranged by the student’s College Director of Studies. Students normally expect to receive six to eight one-hour long supervisions for each course. They will be expected to submit fully referenced supervision essays (normally 1,000-2,000-words) to their supervisor before each supervision.

For postgraduates, ‘Supervision’ in Cambridge consists of one-to-one meetings with a subject specialist. For MPhil courses, supervision norms are 1 hour per essay (ELAC/Film MPhils by Advanced Study) or half an hour per 2,000 word essay and 1 hour for the 4,000 word essay (Theoretical and Applied Linguistics MPhil by Advanced Study). There are normally four hours of supervision for the dissertation for each of these courses. For doctoral students, the maximum number of supervision hours per academic year is 10-12 hours.

5. Assessment in Cambridge

- a) Students following Cambridge undergraduate courses may be assessed in different ways:
 - i) on the basis of the written work, i.e. supervision essays, that they submit for each supervision. Supervisors report on these in end-of-term CamCORS reports (CamCORS is the Cambridge online student progress reporting system). This provides a record of the student’s progress for all concerned. (Once submitted, the distribution of CamCORS information becomes the responsibility of the student’s college.) Mobility Exchange students are normally expected to write the same number of essays as their Cambridge counterparts.
 - ii) by dissertation: students may write an extended dissertation (in the region of 10000 words), overseen by a Cambridge supervisor, as a substitute for a Part II course.
 - iii) by examination. If the student is to be assessed by examination, their College needs to make the necessary application. Students should inform their College, the ISO and their Faculty of their intention to be assessed by examination at the start of the academic year.
- b) Students following Cambridge postgraduate courses will be required to attend faculty classes for any MPhil modules selected, and to attend supervisions to discuss any written work.

6. Exit Certification

At the end of the academic year students who have taken courses will be provided with a Transcript of Records detailing the courses taken and the level achieved. Though Cambridge does not formally participate in the ECTS system, the certificates will record the ECTS equivalents for the work that a student has done. Students who have pursued research projects during their year in Cambridge will also receive certificates to that effect. Certificates will be prepared by the MMU Year Abroad Office.

Except where it has been stated otherwise above, ECTS equivalents (up to a maximum of 60 ECTS equivalents for the year) will normally be as follows:

- 20 for each term's undergraduate level study completed (3 papers)
- 20 for each term of Masters or Doctoral level research

N.B. The University of Cambridge is unable to assign ECTS credit equivalencies to individual papers.

7. Duration and Entry Term

Students who will be following the MPhil by Advanced Study and Undergraduate courses should be nominated for the full year with Michaelmas Term entry. The courses these students will sit are not modular and are taught year-long, therefore it is not possible for students to enter Cambridge midway through the year. It is expected that students will be in residence for the full academic year. Even in those cases where the principal portion of the student's assessment has been completed in Michaelmas and Lent, it is expected that they will be in residence for Easter Term as well. ECTS credit equivalencies are also based on residency.

PhD and Masters level research students may come to Cambridge for Lent or Easter Term entry, but this is conditional on these students undertaking independent research with a supervisor for the duration of their stay. The Faculty cannot guarantee that supervision will be available outside of Full Term and students should plan the dates of their period of study to coincide with the normal University terms. Term dates can be found at: <https://www.cam.ac.uk/about-the-university/term-dates-and-calendars>.

Courses offered (subject to availability)

Undergraduate MML Courses – Foundation Courses from Part 1A of the MML Degree Programme

These are language classes for first-year undergraduate students. Courses coded with an 'A' are 'ab initio' courses, for those with no prior knowledge of the language. Please note, however, that some language classes may be oversubscribed or not considered appropriate for incoming Mobility Exchange students, as decided by the course convenor. Priority has to be given to those students registered in Cambridge for the degree of BA.

Undergraduate MML Courses – Papers from Linguistics

Students registered as undergraduates can select a maximum of two courses from the Linguistics Tripos: any combination of courses may be chosen subject to availability. Please note that not all Linguistics courses at Advanced level are available in every year and some may be cancelled at short notice.

As all courses offered in Linguistics are at an advanced level, careful consideration should be given by each prospective student to their level of preparation.

Course information may be found here: <http://www.mml.cam.ac.uk/dtal/undergraduates/parts-papers/part-ii/papers-offered>

Undergraduate assessment for Linguistics courses will take the form of assessed supervision work (the 10,000 word dissertation and written Tripos examinations are not an option for Mobility Exchange students).

Undergraduate students will normally receive seven supervisions for Part II papers (three in Michaelmas and four in Lent). Work for supervisions will be set during the lectures and may comprise practical exercises, short paragraph answers to questions, or a longer essay. Students will receive an overall grade for their supervision work at the end of the Michaelmas Term and at the end of the Lent Term in their supervision report.

In all cases (both undergraduate and postgraduate) where the number of students for course is officially capped or limited by available supervisors, regular fee-paying students will be given priority. This also applies to any practical classes associated with courses. Course options must be finalised before students arrive in Cambridge: no more than three Mobility Exchange students will be permitted to follow each course in any given year.

Tripos	Subject	Level	Paper	Code	Restrictions
Linguistics	Linguistics	Advanced	Morphology	Li 8

Undergraduate MML Borrowed Papers

These are courses from the Faculty of Asian and Middle Eastern Studies, the Faculty of Classics, and the Faculty of History, open to Mobility Exchange students in Modern and Medieval Languages and Linguistics.

PLEASE NOTE:

- i. Only one paper from the list below may be selected.
- ii. In all cases, courses are offered subject to availability. Priority has to be given to those students registered in Cambridge for the degree of BA.
- iii. If a course is withdrawn or oversubscribed, Mobility Exchange students may be asked at the start of the academic year in October to choose an alternative and their Learning Agreements will be amended accordingly.

NB: Students wishing to take ANY English courses cannot apply to the MML Mobility Exchange programme, but must apply to the English faculty directly. For Mobility Exchange students seeking papers from the Faculty of English please consult the separate English Faculty subject framework. This can be found on the following website. It is not possible to take courses from both the MML and English frameworks.

MPhil options for Mobility Exchange students

There are three MPhil options for Mobility Exchange students, as listed below. If a student is nominated for one of the MPhils courses listed below then they will need to indicate this on their application form and Learning Agreement. Students who are not successful in their application for participation in MPhil course modules will choose Part II undergraduate courses instead. This will be arranged when their application is initially sent to the Faculty. Please note that students who intend on following the MPhil courses should be nominated for the full year (Oct – June) with Michaelmas Term entry.

1. MPhil in Linguistics by Advanced Study

Masters-level students may apply to register on the MPhil by Advanced Study in Theoretical and Applied Linguistics (https://www.mml.cam.ac.uk/graduates/mphil_courses/mphils-theoretical-applied-linguistics/advanced-study). No more than three Mobility Exchange students will be admitted to the MPhil each year. Students who have already been rejected in a direct application to the MPhil programme are not eligible to apply. Students may select a maximum of four papers from Part II of the Linguistics Tripos in the Michaelmas Term from the list above. At the discretion of the course convenor, in the Lent Term students may attend MPhil Option Courses if they have appropriate background knowledge (as determined by the relevant lecturer); this normally entails following the associated advanced (Part II) course taught in the Michaelmas and also often Lent Term. Please note that, if fewer than two regular fee-paying students register for an Option Course, then the course will be cancelled. Mobility Exchange students are not eligible to attend the MPhil Research Methods course.

Masters-level students may be assessed in Michaelmas Term through research essays. A student may write a maximum of three 2,000 word essays-and a single 4,000 word essay. Each essay must be for a different paper. Additional points will be awarded in the Lent Term for attendance at MPhil options There is no option for assessment through dissertation.

Masters-level students who have not been admitted to the MPhil courses must choose advanced-level (Part II) courses, as described on pages 8-13 above.

In all cases where the number of students for course is officially capped or limited by available supervisors, regular fee-paying students will be given priority. This also applies to any practical classes associated with courses. Course options must be finalised before students arrive in Cambridge: no more than three Mobility Exchange students will be permitted to follow each course in any given year.

2. MPhil in European, Latin American and Comparative Literatures and Cultures by Advanced Study

Please see <https://www.mml.cam.ac.uk/graduates/mphil/elac>

3. MPhil in Film and Screen Studies by Advanced Study
